

VEGAN CERTIFICATE

This document applies to all our clients, in direct or indirect sales.

DECLARATION ON HONNOR

We hereby confirm that all products and auxiliaries listed below, contain no substances which are completely or partially of animal origin. Furthermore, we confirm that for the production of the raw materials no processing aids of animal origin are being used. Processing aids include raw materials that are used in production for a certain purpose but that are not necessarily found in the end product.

The substances weren't tested on animals (conducted or sponsoring directly by our company). This is individually true for all substances (ingredient or auxiliary material), and for the final product.

Machine components and substances that are used for the maintenance and cleaning of the machines are explicitly not considered as processing aids and therefore not subject to this agreement. This includes tools, safety clothing and other substances and materials that are not directly and exclusively used for the production of the said raw materials.
